Inspection Summary

I arrived at 8:30am, it was cloudy with light rain and I did not observe any VE's or odors when approaching the area or the building.

I checked into the office and introduced myself while asking for the manager. Shortly thereafter I was greeted by Tim. I informed Tim of the purpose of my visit and provided him a copy of my business card.

I reviewed the exemption rules with Tim as we walked his facility. When we approached the paint booths we were joined by Mike. We reviewed 287(c) as we toured the booths. Both booths were contained with down draft ventilation. Filters were installed in the floor of both booths. Mike stated that poor ventilation when the filters start to get saturate effects the paint jobs in an adverse manner, so it is common practice that they routinely change the filters.

I asked if any sort of records for paint usage were kept. They did not keep a tracking sheet, but the computerized paint mixing system does track the paint usage in ounces. Both Tim and Mike were unaware of how to extrapolate the information, but stated that their supplier would be able to do so for them. They were also unsure on how far back the system would go. I agreed with Tim and Mike that I would not write a violation as long as they provided the data when available and would begin tracking on a monthly basis as per 287(c)(iii).

Dent repairs are completed in the open bay area which meets the language of rule 285(1)(l)(vi)(B) which states emissions are allowed to be released into the general in plant environment.

As we departed the shop area back to the office area, I provided Tim with a copy of our exemption book; in this earmarked the applicable pages and circled in ink the specific rules that applied to his operations. During this walk, Tim contacted his paint supplier, Shane with Micro Rim, BASF. He explained to Shane the requirement to find paint usage in the computer and get the ball rolling on tracking the paint use. With compliance in the works, I departed the site.

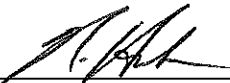

Later that day, I emailed Tim to follow up on the requirement and asked for any records he could provide by 1/26/17 which provided him 2 weeks to get the records and set up a manner of tracking for future inspections. This report will be held until the records are received.

Tim had emailed me just before I sent my email providing me with documentation on paint usage from December 14, 2016 through January 12, 2017 all of which was below the 200 gallons per month limit. The record was 25 pages in length. Due to confusion in the emails, I decided to stop back by the collision center to clarify. I spoke with Tim and Mike again. They stated that Shane was intending on coming into the center in the near future to see if they could simplify the records and reduce the number of pages (two years of records would equate to approx. 600 pages). They will also be discussing how to maintain the files for inspections.

Tim replied to my email inquiry on 1/12/17. He stated that they are able to obtain usage reports through the mixing computer database going back several years and will use this for future compliance. I informed him that this method will suffice for the purposes of the regulation.

Based on my inspection, it appears that the Patsy Lou Collision Center is in compliance with state of Michigan air quality rules.
