

Kaitlyn,

To answer how this violation occurred, the person that was responsible to keep track of this information took a new position early this year. In the transition the responsibilities of this person were split up, somehow this was overlooked. I am now aware of these requirements and going forward it will be my responsibility to maintain. I have submitted all the requested information called out in the violation notice.

Thank you,

Brandon Klever
Bold Furniture