Dear Sam Liveson:

We received the violation dated May 24, 2024, and our response is below. Per our conversations I have submitted a preliminary Permit to Install to Jacob Young for his review to ensure all necessary information is included. We have removed the rain cap from the existing stack to allow for better dispersion of the fumes. We have been working with our oven maintenance provider to quote and install a new burner to consistently achieve and maintain a 1500degF minimum temperature in the afterburner. Additionally, we are adding an additional 6' of stack to the existing 9' above the roof.

The oven has been installed and in operation at this facility since January 2013. The cause of the violation is a failure to obtain a Permit to Install prior to operations commencing with the oven. The violation is ongoing although we are actively working to correct any deficiencies with the current oven, and these will be completed before July 31, 2024.

Sincerely,

Joe McClelland
