To whom it may concern:

On or about September 18th, 2024; we had a yard clean up project. While doing that clean up some of the guys thought it would b OK to burn some wood debris. We were not aware of the rule 310 as we live on farmland and burn wood for heat. In the future we will practice safer clean up procedures that will include proper disposal of any materials. We have contacted a disposal company for any of our clean up projects in the future for proper disposal of all future discarded materials. These steps/procedures are being put into practice immediately

Thank you
